-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE (3) MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Examiner's Detailed Office Action

1. This Office Action is responsive to communication received on 06/26/2007.
2. Claims 1-11 & 13 have been examined.
3. Claim 12 has been cancelled.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

4. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

5. The invention as disclosed in claims 1-11 & 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 101 as being non-statutory subject matter. see In re Comiskey, Case No. 2006-1286, at 8, 16-21, (Fed. Cir., September 20, 2007). "Only if the requirements of § 101 are satisfied is the inventor allowed to pass through to the other requirements for patentability, such as novelty under § 102 and, non-obviousness under § 103." "Moreover, ... when an abstract concept has no claimed practical application, it is not patentable."
6. No preemption is permitted i.e., when a claim is so broad that it reads on both statutory and nonstatutory subject matter, it must be amended. A claim that recites a computer that solely calculates a mathematical formula is not statutory. In other words, one may not patent a process that comprises every "substantial practical application" of an abstract idea, because such a patent in "practical effect would be a patent on the [abstract idea] itself." Regarding claims 1-19 i.e., "a method of establishing rules for a device used for generating decision support for user decision," would in fact cover virtually any form of device employing rules for decision support. Nothing is specified in the claims to limit the invention to a particular application e.g., an aircraft targeting system, a submarine attack system, a land-based vehicle guided missile system, a computer network security system, intelligence system, a money management system, an electronic product management system, a content management system, a customer relationship management system, or an intellectual property management system. Without clearly stating in the claim a particular application, it preempts any form of relationship between a plurality of existing rules in a rule set. Where as, the courts have also held that a claim may not preempt ideas, laws of nature or natural phenomena. The concern over preemption was expressed as early as 1852. See Le Roy v. Tatham, 55 U.S. (14 How.) 156, 175 (1852) ("A principle, in the abstract, is a fundamental truth; an original cause; a motive; these cannot be patented, as no one can claim in either of them an exclusive right."); See Funk Bros. Seed Co. v. Kalo Inoculant Co., 333 U.S. 127, 132, 76 USPQ 280, 282 (1948).
